VG For Men

As a compound formulation combining unique terrestrial plants and marine organisms from the Americas, this product offers a natural and healthy male enhancement solution for men seeking a perfect sexual life.

- Huanarpo

Contains a special proanthocyanidin called Proanthocyanidin B-3, known for correcting erectile dysfunction and infertility, and significantly alleviating male prostatitis. Extracted from the stems and branches, Proanthocyanidin B-3 acts as a bradykinin. Huanarpo has a notable stimulating effect on the smooth muscles of the penis, blocks alpha-adrenergic receptors to reduce penile tissue congestion, increases norepinephrine levels for easier and longer-lasting erections, and acts as a potent antioxidant to maintain stamina and enhance testosterone secretion. It is a popular natural plant-based aid for erectile dysfunction and overall male sexual stimulation and libido enhancement.

- Rhodophyta

The only type of seaweed among over 200 species near Vancouver Island in the Pacific Ocean with health benefits. Extracted from the spermatangia of male organs in sexual reproduction, it contains "aflagellate immotile sperm," processed through special techniques. Its primary benefits include promoting testosterone secretion, increasing semen volume (with less than 5% variation in semen volume over three consecutive ejaculations), and effectively enhancing sperm survival rates as a cellular aid.

- Ostrea gigas tnunb

One of the most resilient aquatic animals with strong resistance to common pathogens. Extracted from Canadian wild Pacific oysters, which are rich in glycogen—a key energy source for cellular metabolism. Glycogen supplementation can improve heart and blood circulation functions, enhance liver function with hepatoprotective effects, reduce cardiac load during sexual activity, rapidly restore physical strength, increase penile hardness, and prolong intercourse duration.
